Presentation

The aim of the course is to train highly qualified professionals for professional activity, providing solid scientific and technical training in areas such as Finance and Management, Taxation and Information Systems, thus enabling them to enter the job market. It also aims to meet the training and updating needs of managers and technicians who are already in the job market, reinforcing and updating their skills. The distance learning pedagogical model adopted is based on 4 key principles: flexibility, autonomy, resource-based learning and interaction and collaboration.
