Presentation

The Loco-regional Anaesthesia in Companion Animals course offers specialised training to meet the growing demands of the job market in this area. It aims to provide professionals with ¯Hands-On?? practical training that is innovative in the national and European context. This lifelong learning programme (CPD) is based on the pillars of excellent teaching based on evidence and the acquisition of skills to resolve situations in work contexts. The course has a practical face-to-face structure, which allows professionals to acquire the practical skills essential to apply loco-regional blocks in their small animal clinical practice.
