Presentation

The Portuguese as a Foreign Language course - Level A1 is designed for international students who are just beginning to learn Portuguese and need to develop basic communication skills to live, study, and integrate into Portuguese society. Focused on the most common situations in daily and academic life, the course promotes the comprehension and production of simple statements, enabling students to introduce themselves, interact in social and university settings, and perform essential communicative tasks. Organized in accordance with the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR), it constitutes the first level of a learning path leading to CAPLE certification.
